Solved Problems On Engineering Hydrology

Groundwater problems that are caused by contamination can pose serious health risks. Agricultural runoff that contains animal feces, for example, can result in human gastrointestinal infections. Toxic contamination can result in more severe health problems such as cancer and birth defects.

What are the Different Types of Groundwater Problems?

The mathematics have been enhanced and thoroughly demonstrated through the use of many solved example problems that do not skip essential steps in the solution process. Chapters in the first half of the book emphasize ground-water hydrology.
